FROM OUR LEADERSHIP

Dear Collegiate Community,

As the first semester of the 2023-24 school year comes to a close, we have much to celebrate and lots to look forward to this spring. In August, we opened the school year with a record number of nearly 800 students and welcomed 81 new families to the Collegiate community.

This year, we continue focusing on social-emotional learning, building a culture and climate emphasizing comprehensive wellness, and providing an inclusive community. In this issue, you will read about how we have designed and implemented our current social-emotional learning program for our oldest students. Connecting with students about their needs is essential to our whole-child approach to education. Thank you for attending our recent Wellness Series Events. We hope you find these speakers engaging and helpful in focusing on your health and well-being for you and your family.

As I walk around campus, I see so many joyful moments, from the smiling, happy faces of our Junior Kindergarteners, who spent the morning building masterpieces with blocks, to our Seniors receiving college acceptance letters. In September, we hosted our Homecoming festivities at the new turf field, welcomed alumni back to campus for our Alumni Association Awards Dinner, held our Lower School Fall Festival, and hosted parent gatherings for families to meet and connect. We cheered on our student-athletes, with 171 Middle and 162 Upper School students participating in a fall sport. Our varsity cross country, field hockey, and boys' soccer teams competed in state tournaments.

We held a ribbon-cutting ceremony to open the Barker Brown Athletic Complex on October 29. We are grateful to our 337 donors who supported this project that elevates our athletic program and will benefit future student-athletes for generations. Our students performed in two theatrical performances: A Midsummer Night's Dream and Disney's Newsie's JR. These productions showcased our amazing drama program and entertained everyone in attendance. Over 300 grandparents and special friends visited campus and enjoyed our first graders singing "Albuquerque Turkey."

We kicked off our Annual Fund on Give for Good Louisville this year with 409 donations and are grateful to the 463 current families who have made a gift to support our school. We hope you will consider donating to Collegiate before the year's end. Gifts to the Annual Fund allow us to bridge "the gap" between tuition income and annual operating expenses.

As you can see, we have accomplished a lot these last few months and are ready for some rest! Thank you for being a part of the Collegiate community. I wish you a safe and happy holiday season.

Sincerely,

Dr. Robert P. Macrae

Collegiate Officially Opens the Barker Brown Athletic Complex

On Sunday, October 29, the Collegiate community gathered for a ribbon-cutting ceremony to officially open the Barker Brown Athletic Complex. Nearly 100 donors, parents, students, and friends of Collegiate attended.

Dr. Rob Macrae kicked off the festivities by thanking everyone who helped to make this vision a reality. He thanked donors and the Victory Campaign committee, chaired by Campbell Brown P'24, '27, for their generosity and support.

Campbell Brown thanked the committee, Dr. Macrae, the Board of Trustees, friends, and families at Collegiate for getting the Barker Brown Athletic Complex built and open so quickly for students. He thanked his wife, Sarah Barker, for supporting and committing to this project. He gave a special thanks to Stephanie Disney P'24, Director of Advancement, for her support and leadership during this campaign.

Augusta Brown Holland '94, P'25, '28, '28, President of the Board of Trustees, spoke to the crowd, thanking everyone for their donations, expertise, and commitment to building the Barker Brown Athletic Complex. Paul Augustus P'37, Director of Athletics, invited senior student-athletes to join him in cutting the ribbon to open the facility. The event included tours, refreshments, and Lower School clinics on the turf field for field hockey, lacrosse, and soccer.

The Barker Brown Athletic Complex completes the renovation of area two of the Collegiate Athletic Fields, our 24-acre property off Newburg Road. The new area also includes a turf field with lights and stadium seating that opened in the Spring of 2022. This new facility will provide student-athletes additional training space and a turf field for several athletic programs, including field hockey, golf, lacrosse, soccer, and squash.

Social-Emotional Learning in the Upper School

By Sara Gahan, Head of Upper School & JulieAnne Dietz, Upper School Counselor

Adolescence can be a challenging stage of life. Academic pressures, social media, and busy schedules are just a few of the reasons teens can feel overwhelmed and anxious. Additionally, the global pandemic and resulting stress and isolation have made navigating these years even harder for most middle and high school students, with a lingering impact that experts have yet to fully understand. Both of us have worked with high school students our entire careers, but when we stepped into our current roles in 2021, we still found ourselves regularly checking in with each other to reflect on the increasing and diverse needs of our students.

In the fall of 2021, the American Academy of Pediatrics, along with the American Academy of Child and Adolescent Psychiatry and the Children's Hospital Association, declared a national emergency in child and adolescent mental health. The CDC reported a 40% increase in just one decade in the number of high school students reporting feelings of sadness and hopelessness. Surgeon General Vivek Murthy issued an advisory on Protecting Youth Mental Health that detailed the current youth mental health crisis, factors impacting adolescents' well-being, and ways to bolster adolescent resilience. Among the most prominent protective factors for teens is a healthy community and attending schools that offer social-emotional learning (SEL) opportunities.

With this knowledge in mind, over the past two years, we designed and implemented our current Upper School SEL program. Its many components

Ninth-grade students participating in the Wellness Foundation series.

The "CASEL Wheel" is used by educators to help cultivate skills and environments that advance students' SEL learning and development.

together aim to help students create a strong foundation of self, relationships, and community that supports their ability to fully access their education; build resilience; and develop the tools and skills to become healthy and successful adults.

Connecting with students about their needs is an essential component of our whole-person approach to education. As we met with students to better understand their perspectives, one comment was repeatedly expressed: students wanted to be introduced to information and develop social-emotional skills as a proactive strategy rather than a reactive response. Simply put, the earlier the better. We created a comprehensive program for ninth-grade students that spreads SEL throughout their day and year. Most notably is the Wellness Foundations series. Now we have subject matter experts leading age-appropriate classes on substance use prevention, body image, healthy relationships, and mental health.

Another SEL focused program for ninth-grade students is our Compassion, Communication and Conflict Workshop offered as a collaboration between the US Counseling and the ninth-grade English teachers. Through this program, students consider how their own understanding and exploration of compassion and conflict can impact their well-being and the well-being of their community. Students engage in conflict resolution strategies through literary inquiry and modeling.

Finally, for ninth grade, we launched our “How To Do LCS” orientation. As part of this new initiative, students engage in a culture-building activity. They reflected on creating their personal legacies at LCS and their desired culture for both their grade and the entire school. As their takeaway, they set intentional goals related to culture and appropriate action steps, and advisors and students revisit these goals throughout the year.

Our ninth-grade SEL curriculum sets the stage for three more years of exploration and growth. Tenth-grade students meet with a trained facilitator from Prevention Solutions to learn more about substance use prevention and the positive impact of delayed use and community partnership. They also engage in SEL Co-Edge classes: Well-being I, Community and Healthy Relationships, Ethics, and Media Literacy.

Eleventh-grade students have the opportunity to continue to develop competencies and understanding in the areas of mental health, healthy relationships, and substance use prevention through high level conversations with experts in those areas.

Seniors have SEL and applied health programs that are focused on facilitating their transition to adulthood. They become trained in QPR suicide prevention and KY Harm Reduction Fentanyl Awareness. We discuss the academic, social, and emotional transition to college and ways they can continue to prioritize their health and well-being in a new and different environment. We invite alumni to campus to share their experiences with not only career decision-making but also life choices and personal fulfillment.

This year each grade level also engaged in a class retreat at the Earth and Spirit Center. This experience helped facilitate bonding and development in the areas of compassion, leadership, nature, and community.

Faculty play a key role in this program. All faculty have been trained in QPR suicide prevention, and all Upper School faculty have been or will soon be certified in Youth Mental Health First Aid. Our faculty understand the connection between academic success and personal well-being, and they are eager to support our students in every way possible. This training also supports our teachers with our annual health and well-being check-ins that occur between advisors and students each January.

Finally, we know family partnership is essential not only for the strength of our community, but also for the well-being of our students. Through both family programs and relationship building, we try to offer resources and opportunities as we together seek to support our teens.

By design and necessity, this is a dynamic program. We are both proactive and responsive to what our students tell us they need and want in regards to applied health, well-being and SEL--and that is part of its strength. Our students are amazing; they are aware of the importance of taking care of their mental health, they are curious about how to live and love well, and they appreciate factual information that helps them make personal decisions aligned with their values. This is a partnership among students, families, and faculty, and we are grateful for the commitment our community has to loving and raising healthy, happy, hopeful young adults.

A special thank you to our school-wide counseling team for sharing their expertise and support: Bridget McGuire, Lower School Counselor; Kate Edelen, Middle School Counselor; and Jim McGuire, Associate Head of School. We are also grateful to Abigail O'Brien, Ninth-Grade Dean, for her partnership and leadership on “How to do LCS” and the Compassion, Communication and Conflict Workshop, and to our Lifetime Fitness and Wellness team for supporting the Wellness Foundations program: Jason Coy, Dominique Gibbons, Leighton Main, John Miller, and Chad Wozniak.

Upper School Students Nationally Recognized

Louisville Collegiate School is proud to announce that seven students from the class of 2024 were recognized by the National Merit Scholarship Program this year.

Congratulations to Andrew Ackerman '24, Charlie Fitzgerald '24, Carter Latham '24, Eva Martin '24, Ben Norton '24, and Lindsay Reale '24, for being recognized as National Merit Semifinalists! Alejandro Downard '24 was recognized as a National Merit Commended Student.

A special congratulations to Georgia Lawrence '25 for receiving the National African American Recognition Award (NAARA) and James Marshall '25 for receiving the National Hispanic Recognition Award (NHRA).

Students Accepted to the Louisville Youth Orchestra

Congratulations to our students who were accepted to the Louisville Youth Orchestra for the organization's 65th season. Every student spent the summer months practicing scales and excerpts to prepare for a successful audition. The musicians practice every Sunday for three hours and perform four to six concerts yearly. All musicians study with a private instructor and play in the Collegiate Strings program to follow acceptance rules into the Louisville Youth Orchestra.

Please congratulate the following students:
Sherlyn Choi '27,
Lillian Chung '26,
Robert Hymes '24, Alex Makdah '26, Catie Mayo '28, Genie Mayo '30, Aliya Nasim '26, Ben Norton '24, Samuel Rios '25, Pierson Rooprai '28, Jude Seow '29, Rafael Shah-Bozeman '27, and Alina (Wanqing) Zheng '28.

Coaches and Student-Athletes Excel During the Fall Season

By Paul Augustus, CAA, Director of Athletics, Middle and Upper School

Not one, not two, but three Coach of the Year honorees highlight our incredible fall athletic season at Collegiate! Congratulations to Cross Country Head Coach Sydney Goetz for her recognition as the KTCCCA Area 3 (Louisville) All Area Girls 1A Coach of the Year, to Amazon Field Hockey Head Coach, Michelle Hanafi, the Kentucky Field Hockey Coaches Association Coach of the Year, and to Titan Soccer Head Coach Chad Wozniak, who earned United Soccer Coaches Association Kentucky Private School Coach of the Year! While these head coaches undoubtedly earned these honors, they also credit their coaching staff, student-athletes, and program supporters for making the fall season great at Collegiate!

COACH OF THE YEAR HONOREES

Sydney Goetz

Michelle Hanafi

Chad Wozniak

Our Amazons and Titans continue to value the importance of school athletics, which is evident in our participation rates. This fall season alone, Collegiate had 333 individual participants (63%) in grades 5-12 across 24 teams with 41 coaches. Compared to 234 participants, 17 teams, and 33 coaches in the fall of 2019, our fall sports programs have consistently grown over the past five school years.

At the varsity level, we continue to see unprecedented growth and the success that follows. Amazon Cross Country was the 1A KHSAA Region 3 Team Champion, with Mary Thomas Kute '27 placing first and Margaret Dulaney '27 taking second place in the region. At the 1A KHSAA State Meet, the Amazons were 10th, with Dulaney placing 7th and Kute running to a 12th place finish. Titan Cross Country took second place at the Regional Championships, with Roman Sierpina '25 placing first and James Gurley '26 finishing fourth. Sierpina was the 1A KHSAA State Meet Runner-Up, and Gurley finished fifth for the Titans, who placed eighth in the team standings.

Amazon Field Hockey was the Region 3 runner-up and advanced to the KHSAA State Tournament Quarterfinals for the second consecutive year, falling 4-0 to eventual state champions Christian Academy. The Amazons blended senior leadership with younger talent and finished 14-11-1 for the season, including 4-2 in region play. Over the summer, Lillian Chung '26 was named to the Max Field Hockey Class of 2026 Top 100 Players to Watch. Representing the Amazons on the All-Region Tournament team were Rachel Disney '24, Rosie Miller '26, and Eliza Lewis '27.

The Titan Golf team placed second in the All "A" Regional Tournament, and Jacob Holzer '26 tied for eighth place at the All "A" State competition. Holzer also took first place in the Rocket Invitational to start the season with a 68 (-4). A young and talented Amazon golf team, led by first-year Head Coach Jason Coy, took first at the All "A" Regional Tournament. Heidi Mitchell '27 finished third in the KHSAA 6th Region Championship and advanced to the KHSAA Semi-State round! Mitchell was also named to the All-Region 6 Second Team.

Amazon Soccer advanced to the Regional Tournament for the second time ever (back-to-back seasons) and recorded the 200th win in Amazon Soccer program history. They finished 13-5 on the season, were All "A" Region 7 and KHSAA District 26 tournament runner-ups, and ranked #17 in the KY Coaches Association Poll. Gabbie Schulten '24 was named to the KHSAA All-Region Team for the 7th Region, and Chloe Layfield '27 was voted the top high school girls player in the Louisville Area by the Courier Journal.

Titan Soccer spent most of the season ranked in the top five in the state and finished with an 18-3-2 record, falling in penalty kicks to eventual state champion St. Xavier in the Regional Championship game. The Titans did bring the All "A" State Championship trophy back to Collegiate, our eighth in school history, as they marched through the All "A" Region 7 and State Classic Tournament this fall. They finished as KHSAA District 26 and Region 7 Tournament Runner-Ups. The team was awarded the United Soccer Coaches (USC) Association Team Offense award, and Nick Harshaw '24 was named the Offensive Player of the Year and a USC All-American.

Collegiate hosted several events this fall, including Faculty and Staff Appreciation Night, Homecoming, the All "A" State Classic, District and Regional Tournaments, Movie Night at the "C," Alumni Nights, and Senior Nights at the new Barker Brown Athletic Complex. These events allow Collegiate to start the school year with community-building events and opportunities for memories to last a lifetime. I am appreciative of all our volunteers throughout the fall, multiple faculty, staff, and administrators who covered athletic events, and especially our 41 fall season coaches (18 in the Middle School and 23 in Upper School) who poured their time, effort, and hearts into their work with our student-athletes.

Finally, athletic event managers Derek Ferch and Dom Gibbons contributed significantly in their first season, helping with home athletic events. Patrick Lincoln, our athletic trainer, continued to do all he could to help prevent and work through injuries with our student-athletes, and Assistant Athletic Directors Meghan Farmer and Ryan Smith consistently brought their best every day to serve our teams and students. I am incredibly proud of this fall season and look forward to more winter and spring highlights!

Amazon Volleyball: Fall 2024

We are excited to expand our athletic offerings next school year with the addition of girls' volleyball in the fall. Collegiate will now offer 23 varsity level sports! Help spread the word to your family, friends, and neighbors!

Dear Fellow Alumni,

With the school year almost halfway complete, there is already so much to look back on fondly. In September, the Alumni Association hosted the 2023 Alumni Awards and welcomed back over 100 alumni, faculty, staff, and friends to Collegiate to celebrate. It's truly a special event that allows attendees to reflect on their time at Collegiate and celebrate the accomplishments of the award recipients within the Collegiate community and beyond.

In October, my class of 2003 celebrated our 20-year reunion in style at Goodbounce and Gravely Brewing. I'm grateful for such wonderful classmates and the time we were able to spend growing up together. It was a pleasure to reconnect with those who have moved away from Louisville. In November, the Alumni Games brought fun competition between alumni and current students at the "C" in field hockey, soccer, and lacrosse.

I'd like to take this opportunity to thank Louisa Rietze Lewandowski '90 for her many years as the Alumni Board Treasurer and her dedication to running the Glenmary Shop. This has been no small task and we are forever grateful for her commitment to the Alumni Association! Going forward, we are splitting her prior responsibilities into two roles and I'm very happy to announce that Will Rawley '03 has assumed the role of Treasurer and Katie Bickel Booker '06 is the Glenmary Shop Volunteer Coordinator. I'd also like to thank Ryan Nazar '03 for his time serving on the Alumni Board. Last year, he taught a Co-Edge course to seniors on healthcare advocacy that helped them prepare for life after Collegiate.

At the beginning of the year, the Alumni Association's board created a series of goals that we are actively working to achieve, including:

- Increasing support for class reunions.
- Hosting additional alumni events in Louisville.
- Growing alumni participation in the Annual Fund.
- Increasing opportunities for professional networking among alumni.

I invite you to get involved in any way you can and reach out if you have any ideas or events you would like to see happen.

With gratitude,

Collegiate Honors Alumni and Faculty at 2023 Alumni Association Awards

It was a heartwarming and memorable evening as we gathered for the 2023 Alumni Awards Dinner and Ceremony, surrounded by around 120 familiar faces from our beloved community. Honoring the recipients and hearing their inspiring speeches and stories was a true highlight of the event. The sense of camaraderie and pride was palpable, reminding us of the enduring connections forged through shared Collegiate experiences.

Thank you to Erin Eggers Fidler '96 for organizing such a wonderful event and Mark Bowling '03, Alumni Association President, for his leadership.

As we reflect on this year's celebration, we eagerly anticipate the next and are already looking forward to the remarkable individuals we'll have the privilege of honoring. We encourage you to participate in this tradition by submitting nominations for all awards, with submissions due in April 2024. Let's continue to celebrate excellence and the incredible achievements of our alumni family. See you next year!

Alumni Gather for Spirited Competition and an Exclusive Tour of the Barker Brown Athletic Complex

The morning before Thanksgiving, alumni, current students, and beloved coaches had a laid-back reunion at the Alumni Games. Alumni from various graduating years exchanged stories, laughter, and a few exaggerated tales of their glory days as they enjoyed some friendly matches. After the games, everyone toured the newly unveiled Barker Brown Athletic Complex, a state-of-the-art facility and testament to the continuous growth of Dear Collegiate, Alma Mater.

GIVING BACK

Support the 2023-24 Fund and Help Bridge “the Gap”

Like all independent schools, Louisville Collegiate School depends on a strong annual fund to help offset the difference between the tuition charged and the school’s expense to educate each student, known as “the Gap.”

In the 2023-24 school year, “the gap” at Collegiate is more than $2,300 per student.

This year, the Collegiate community will come together to bridge this gap through:

- The Annual Fund - $580,000
- Events and Sponsorships - $150,000
- Endowment Draw (usually around 5%)

85% Tuition
15% “The Gap”

Become a 2024 Collegiate Community Partner

The Community Partners Program is an opportunity for your business to collaborate with Louisville Collegiate School, supporting the school and its essential programs. Your contributions will support over $3 million in financial aid for 40% of our families, as well as professional development, academic, fine arts, and athletics programs for both students and faculty.

Our partnership advantages include year-long visibility to our community of over 3,000 engaged parents, alumni, faculty, staff, grandparents, and friends. By making a single Community Partnership commitment, you receive guaranteed, ongoing benefits rather than multiple sponsorship requests throughout the calendar year.

If you are interested in becoming a Community Partner, please scan the QR code or contact Catherine Gatewood Easley '02 at 502.479.0345 or ceasley@louisvillecollegiate.org.

COMMUNITY PARTNERS

As we embrace the spirit of gratitude this holiday season, we warmly invite you to join us in extending appreciation to our esteemed 2023 community partners. Their generous monetary and in-kind contributions have played a pivotal role in making the 2023 calendar year a remarkable journey for Collegiate. Thank you for being the pillars of support that make the Collegiate experience possible!
